

NCMIC Finance Corporation Chooses Odessa Technologies to Automate Front Office Operations

January 29, 2010

NCMIC Finance Corporation, a subsidiary of NCMIC Group, Inc., has selected LeaseWave® the lease management suite provided by Odessa Technologies, Inc. ("Odessa"), to automate and administer their entire front office lease management process.

"NCMIC made the decision to migrate its legacy core lease accounting and back office systems to LeaseWave® many years ago but continued to use our internally developed front end system", says Greg Cole, President. "The implementation of LeaseWave® front end functionality allows us to consolidate all of our front office and back office processes on one platform and a single database. In addition, we will be able to improve customer service by providing our vendor partners with a portal to easily submit applications and check on the status of their transactions including credit decisions, documents and funding.

"NCMIC's decision validates our commitment to providing customers with exceptional support and service and also offer new products in order to keep customers coming back." says Odessa's Jeff Lezinski, VP Equipment Leasing Vertical. "Extending automation to their front-end processes is a natural extension to our existing implementation with NCMIC. "
